Jingle Cat's Holiday Ornament/Gift Box

Bryan had a grand time wrapping presents. Some he put under the tree but some of the presents, he hung on the tree, like this ornament gift box. Here's how he made this present.

You will need ----

1. One piece of card stock paper (heavy weight paper) for each box.
2. One piece of 4 to 6 inch long and ¼-inch wide, red, or green ribbon. You could also use some cotton string. Just make sure it is strong.
3. Glue
   Ask an adult to help you use the glue. Do not use the glue by yourself.
4. One brad for each box that you are making.
5. A pair of utility scissors
   You will want to ask an adult to use the scissors. Do not use them yourself.
6. 10-12 Chocolate candy kisses
7. Some old newspaper to cover the work area

Let's Get Started----

1. Begin this project by printing off the box pattern on card stock paper on a color printer. If you don't have a color printer you can color your box with crayons. If you want to make 2 or 3 boxes, be sure to place the correct number of sheets of paper in the printer.
2. Cut out and fold the box. Be sure to cut on the continuous lines and fold on the dotted lines only.
3. Glue the two areas that are marked to be glued so you have a square box.
4. Cut 6 inches of red or green ribbon.
5. Clip a tiny X on the top of your box.
6. Then, push the ends of the ribbon and the then the brad through the tiny X in the top of the box. The brad will hold the ribbon in place so it will not come lose.
7. Let the glue dry for a ½ day.
8. Now fill your box with kisses and hang on the tree.
